CONFIDENTIAL 25X1 training zastava CO accompanied him to the postoffice and back. All packages received by trainees were checked by officers, who were especially concerned as to whether the packages contained wodka or not. While serving on border guard duty with the 3rd Border Guard Zastava, had been at first allowed to visit members 25X1 neighboring villages on their day off. However, one sergeant visited a village in the company of another border guard soldier, became drunk, was bitten by a dog, and killed the dog with his SMG. A scandal ensued. The owner of the dog complained to the 1st Komendatura, which sent its political officer, a border guard major, to investigate the incident. As a result, from then on all passes into villages were cancelled 25X1 The border guard soldiers on their day off would then have to be satisfied with staying around the zastava area and reading. However, whenever members were on patrol duty at the observation point on the zastava's left flank, they 25X1 would sometimes chance it and sneak off to a nearby village located about one kilometer from the observation point and consisting of about fifty houses. I They would buy vodka there from a small shop. 25X1 this, the border guard EM would have been sentenced to 15 days in the 25X1 guardhouse. None of the border guard EM in his zastava, all of them conscripts, was allowed to drink, not even the first sergeant. How-ever, all of them did drink occasionally, whenever their funds permitted it. Those border guard soldiers who checked the documents of passengers on the Transcaucasian Railroad would often buy vodka at the "diner" when the train stopped near the zastava. Leave All border guard officers were entitled to one month leave a year, exclusive of travel time. 25X1 the political 25X1 officer took such an annual leave and was gone for over one month. He availed himself of this opportunity to take his pregnant wife home (see paragraph 1). While the political officer was on leave, the zastava CO read the political lectures in his place. Border guard soldiers were told that they were entitled to compassionate and meritorious leave. It was a matter of common knowledge among border guard troops that in case of sickness, death, or calamity at home, a soldier could be granted ten days leave, after official investigation. Meritorious leaves, also of ten days duration, were awarded to border guard soldiers receiving outstanding grades at the semi-annual proficiency tests and examinations given by the border guard districts to personnel of border zastavy. One soldier 25X1 received two such meritorious leaves 25X1 Leaves were so infrequent 25X1i where more than one border guard soldier was on leave at any one time. There were no publicly-voiced complaints against the leave system, but no one was satisfied with it. 25X1 Discipline was generally good but there were several exceptions. A border guard private was sent to the 1st 25X1 Komendatura on an errand and, while there, became intexicated. The komendatura CO sentenced him to seven days in the komendatura guardhouse. and informed his zastava CO of the action taken by phone. Drunkeness existed . but border guard soldiers had to do their 25X1 drinking in secret. 25X1 25X1

FRATERNIZATION Because of the language barrier, there was very little fraternization and the local Azerbaydzhan populbetween members 25X1 ation. It was common knowledge, however, that one soldier who was of Azerbaydzhan origin and who belonged to the nearby Army VNOS post was courting a local Azerbaydzhan girl of the village of Dolokli. 25X1 strictly speaking, fratern-25X1 ization with the local population was forbidden to personnel of border guard units. Any conversation or dealings with the Azerbaydzhan population were supposed to be limited to those necessary to per-forming border guard duty and to check documents. However, these restrictions were not strictly adhered to and border guard troops would converse with local inhabitants, especially when the latter knew Russian. 25X1 SECURITY 2. Document Checking 3. 25X1 25X1 Freight trains consisted of about 15 to 18 cars. They did not stop and were not inspected by the border troops who were only concerned with passenger trains. The passenger trains averaged twelve cars each and there were two passenger trains daily: The train from Baku stopped near the zastava for about one minute at 0700 hours every morning and the train from Yerevan also stopped for about one minute at 2100 hours every night. Trains were usually on time. It was the duty of the 3rd Zastava document-checking patrol to check the documents of all passengers boarding or dismounting from these trains, usually from about 10 to 15 passengers. The senior
